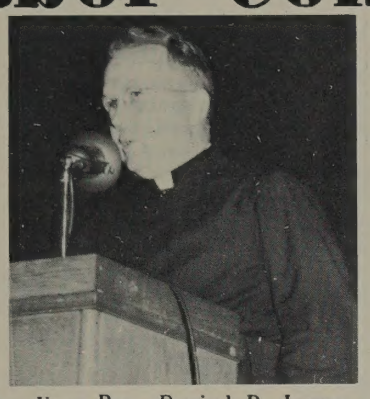
First Labor Conference Great Success

Most Rev. Edward F. Ryan, (above), Bishop of Burlington, addressed the various representatives on "The Bishop's Program for Social Reconstruction". In his talk the Bishop emphasized the encyclicals "Rerum Novarum" and "Quadrigesimo Anno" by Pope Leo XIII and Pope Pius XI respectively, and how they apply to the conditions in the world today.

Mr. Michael Walsh, Director of the New England Region, United Steel Workers, C.I.O., spoke to the delegates Saturday morning on "Union and Workers." Rev. Edmund Hamel, St. Michael's College spoke to the representatives on "The Encyclical Teachings on Wages, Profits, and Prices."



Very Rev. Daniel P. Lyons, (above), President of St. Michael's College, welcomed the delegates to the Labor Relations Commission Conference Friday evening. Fr. Lyons expressed a desire that this conference would be a success and that the representatives from the different colleges would participate actively in the conference.

Mr. Samuel Angoff, Legal director for the C.I.O. in Boston spoke of Labor's attitudes in the discussion on "Industrial Relations" last Saturday. In his talk, he stated that the worker must have a say in the organization in which he works. As regards the strike issue, he said, "The right to strike is a major bulwark for labor."

Four delegates (above) take time out to talk to Fr. George G. Higgins during last Saturday's session of the N.F.C.C.S. Labor Convention.

Rev. George G. Higgins, Associate Director, Social Action Department, National Catholic Welfare Conference, gave his views on "The Industry Council Plan." He applauded Labor's stand against limited representation of labor in the government. He said "Governmental representation should be limited in labor."

Mr. Maurice Keenan, General Manager of General Electric, Burlington Branch, represented Management in the "Industrial Relations" discussion. Management's views on the working man were, "A man is not part of a bench, he is a human being and he should be treated as such. Machines have no part in Industrial Relations," he said.

Bishop Ryan Opens Session

In a conference which began last Friday night and ended Sunday afternoon, St. Michael's College Labor Relations Club played host to eight colleges from all parts of New England.

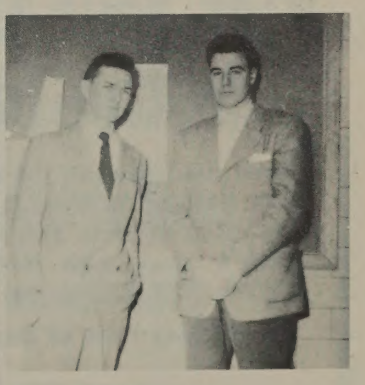
Among those represented were Providence College, Boston College, Our Lady of the Elms, Emmanuel College, Amherst College, Regis College and Trinity College. Thirty delegates from these colleges were housed at Trinity and St. Michael's Colleges.

MANY SPEAKERS

From the Friday evening welcome address by President of the College, Very Rev. Daniel P. Lyons, S.S.E., till the closing address by Mr. Maurice Keenan, the representatives were kept busy the entire weekend.

Friday evening, Most Rev. Edward F. Ryan, D.D., Bishop of Burlington spoke to the students on "The Bishop's Program for Social Reconstruction." Saturday morning Mr. Michael Walsh addressed the delegates and was followed in the afternoon by Rev. Edmund Hamel, S.S.E., and Rev. George G. Higgins. Sunday morning Mr. Samuel Angoff and Mr. Maurice Keenan completed the program for the weekend.

(Below) L. to R.: Bill Kenney, Commission Chairman, and John McCloskey, President of the New England Regional NFCCS, also representing Boston College. Bill in his capacity of Chairman of the Commission produced a continuous flow of activity for the eight colleges' delegates at this, the first Industrial Relations Commission to be put on by the NFCCS. From all those who were at the Conference we extend a thankful "Well done, Bill."



Mikeman Makes Staff Changes

With the beginning of the new semester, members of the Editorial staff were appointed to various positions in the Editorial Department. These positions were created to alleviate the strain on the existing editors who were appointed last September. (This last statement is subject to comment.)

"RED" McINTIRE

John McIntire, a senior from Wakefield, Mass., was appointed to the position of Associate News Editor. "Red" has been on the staff for the past two years and possesses all the qualities of forcefulness and cruelty which are necessary for extracting copy from the reporters.

DAN JENNINGS

Dan Jennings, a junior from Rutland, Vt., fills the slot of Copy Editor. As an English major, Dan has all the aptitude for placing together split infinitives and breaking up double negatives which may (by accident, of course) appear in the copy passing under his searching eyes.

STAN SIGEL

Stan Sigel, a freshman from Worcester, Mass., has answered the cry of the MICHAELMAN by accepting the position of Staff Photographer. Stan came to SMC this February and has shown a much appreciated liking for "newspaper" work. His work can be seen in the pictures above.

The appointing committee could do nothing with the rest of the officers in the Editorial Department.

Amendments Proposed for Selective Service Act

Further recommendations to the present Selective Service Act have been made by the American Council on Education according to a recent article in the January issue of "Higher Education and National Affairs."

PROPOSAL

In order to further carry out the clear intent of the bill to minimize interrupting the careers of young men the American Council on Education urged that the power granted to the President to defer "categories of students" be used to defer all students now satisfactorily pursuing courses in institutions of higher learning until the completion of their courses of study, the period of obligation for military training or such other service as the President may direct to be extended accordingly. This step, the Council said, should be taken at the earliest possible moment either by amendment to the legislation or by Executive order.

PRESENT ACT

As the Selective Service Act stands now, the President is authorized to prescribe regulations for the deferment from training and service of any category or categories of students for such periods of time as deemed appropriate. (This provision would permit the President to direct the deferment of all students now in college if he believed such action was desirable. The January 19-20 Conference of the Organization Members of the American Council on Education and many leading educators now recommend such a policy.)

WE HOPE---

If we remember correctly, this similar form was used to introduce the present deferment bill which eventually became a law to the advantage of the college students. We (the college students) can more than hope for similar action on the present proposal of the American Council on Education.

Sodality Notes

Rev. Leon E. Paulin, S.S.E., moderator of the Sodality, recently announced that plans are being made for the annual Communion Breakfast made possible through the combined efforts of the Mission Crusade and College Sodality.

The affair will take place at the Hotel Vermont shortly after Easter vacation. The main speaker has been engaged by the Very Rev. Daniel P. Lyons, St. Michael's President, but as yet his name has not been disclosed.

The Sodality at their meeting last week laid the foundation for their Communion Breakfast, which in the past years has drawn a great deal of attention and interest from the entire student body. This year only 150 tickets will be sold by the Mission Crusade and Sodality.

Red Cross Needs Michaelman Blood

By John Donahue

April thirtieth is the date set for the donating of blood at St. Michael's. Chairman John Weinman hopes to have two hundred and fifty students signed up by this date.

In the United States there are only thirty-five blood centers. The object of the Red Cross is to furnish free blood to the hospitals in this district and also to contribute to both the National stock pile and to send blood to Korea. The original goal was sixty pints a day, then upped to eighty pints and now stand at one hundred and twenty pints a day. Because of the good co-operation of the people in the district the quota has been filled.

Organization for this program has already been set up but about thirty more students are needed to work on the committee. Cards will be sent to the proctors of each hall. If the student is over twenty-one he may sign himself, but if the student is under twenty-one he must have parental consent. Each student will be given a physical examination and then will be allowed to donate his blood.

The entire "operation" will take only one hour. Each volunteer student will have an appointment. He will report to Austin Hall and will be re-checked and then the blood will be taken. After this there will be a twenty minute rest and then a light lunch.

Students are urged to contribute their blood or to work on the committee. Any volunteers may see John Weinman in St. Leo's Hall, 102.

CONDOLENCE

Your prayers are asked for the repose of the soul of Mr. Charles H. Randall of Biddeford, Maine, who died Tuesday. His son, Charles Randall, a sophomore, has been the make-up editor of THE MICHAELMAN for the past year.

It's Your Blood

Recently the Student Council and the Administration approved of a Red Cross Blood Drive on the campus.

The Drive is a part of a Regional Red Cross plan to provide free blood for the residents of Vermont, Northern New Hampshire and for those in service.

To help this plan, 120 pints of blood are needed daily. Fifty pints of the donated blood will be kept in the area, available through local hospitals to every man, woman, and child regardless of race, creed, color or financial status.

Fifty pints will be stock piled for defense and Government use.

Fifty pints will be flown direct to Korea.

The drive will be held April 30, when the mobile donor unit visits the campus.

Every Michaelman is eligible to donate blood. Those under 18 must get their parents' consent on a form supplied by the campus drive chairman.

Each donor will be checked by a Red Cross doctor before donating in order to protect his health.

The MICHAELMAN will carry further details.

Sacrificing one's life blood is true Christian charity.

U.V.M. and Dartmouth have joined in the cause.

St. Michael's quota is 250 volunteers.

Can we meet it???

Forty Shamrocks

In the past, Michaelmen have been soundly " shillelaghed" for their lack of school spirit.

They have been under fire from all fronts --- from the administration, from this column, and even from the cheerleaders!!!

However, today, the piper has another tune to play --- a good tune!!!

When the call went out for catechism teachers for the C.Y.O. program awhile back, the quota for ten or twelve men was not expected to be filled. --- Imagine the surprise when 40 men turned out!

We might not yell at ball games or fill a lecture hall -- but when it comes to the bigger things, Michaelmen have the heart and the spirit.

And once again we can smile and say " This isn't such a bad outfit, after all!!"

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

ATTENTION; Ballplayers, sportsminded Michaelmen, and all those who have the interest of St. Michael's at heart.

SUBJECT: Display of sportsmanship and attitudes of both ballplayers and students.

This week's Burlington Daily News carried a headline concerning the nauseating corruption of a bunch of City College of New York ballplayers. A group of ballplayers who were out to make a quick-buck, with no thought of Nat Holman, their coach, nor of the students who pay an athletic fee to see their ballplayers give their best.

This week, here at St. Michael's, a handful of wiseacres put up disparaging signs in the snack bar with attached coin-cans asking donations to buy up Barry Branon's contract. We (the authors) consider such low-life, who would do such a dirty, dastardly trick, to be one centimeter lower than the esophagus of a rattlesnake. Rats always desert the sinking ship, but St. Michael's is not sinking, despite the presence of the aforementioned ferrets. Kentucky, Bradley, and Villanova are all top teams, and they have been beaten.

As to the ballplayers, obviously there has been dissension among them, and of late they have been seen about Burlington and environs, engaging in activities which only involve the right arm, activities that are hardly conducive to good ballplaying. We believe that aside from their own personal pride (woefully lacking) they owe the students of St. Michael's College a fair shake. In the final analysis, it is the student body whose athletic fees and support make varsity sports possible. It is up to the ballplayers to give their best, for any glory they can attain for the school will make their own college degrees more valuable and the degrees of the students they represent. Certain CCNY ballplayers put their self-interest above the interests of their school, and we believe that some St. Michael's basketeers have much the same attitude. No, they are not taking bribes, but they are coasting and allowing publicity, and similar ego-intoxicants (and perhaps a little mead?) to turn their heads. Thus we have a dissenstion-ridden team. A team which is capable of a lot more hustle. How about it, fellas?

There always has to be a goat in any losing cause. After seeing the St. Michael's-Vermont game, and hearing the reports of the Springfield and St. Anselm's games, pinning the donkey's tail on Barry Branon is a gross injustice. The way St. Michael's is playing ball, in all fairness, we think that Vermont should be conceded the State Championship. Thoughts of entering the Catholic Tournament might as well be forgotten for the rest of the season if they continue as they have done in the past. Orchids to Barry Branon who took the big jump from high school to college ball in his stride. Onions to the slacker ballplayers and to certain bandwagon students.

To the Editor:

In last week's MICHAELMAN there appeared an expected response to an article written by me on school spirit and the Cheerleaders. I tried to be discreet when writing this article so that I wouldn't step on any toes, but since there seems to be a doubt in some small minds as to what I was trying to put over in a nice way, I will restate the issue. Mr. Bunnell does not want more pep. He wants less cheerleaders. You may call my criticism destructive if you wish as it makes no difference to me as long as you get the point, which is: You are continually the subject of ridicule and laughter and it is no wonder.

Here's telling the guy who wrote the letter, whoever he may be, that as long as I'm living in a democracy I'll say what I want whether he likes it or not and if he doesn't like it, he can take a dive off Winooski Bridge.

My patience snapped in two tonight when I walked into the notorious Mess Hall and my wandering eyes beheld on a plate before me, some cold crushed potatoes, cold sauerkraut, and a slice of bologna. Being sick of living on bread, butter and milk, I decided that it was about time I made my gripe known to someone who could do something about it. Sensibly, I went to Mr. Hanlon's office to speak to him about the matter. There is no reason at all why we here at St. Michael's who are paying $1.50 a day to eat at a non-profit dining hall should not be able to have at least one good meal a day.

Mr. Hanlon was pleased that I came to see him (at least he said he was), so I came straight to the point which is: Every one of us has the right to expect decent meals since we are paying for them and if we don't get them, we can demand to know the reason why. Mr. Hanlon informed me that he would see what could be done about such things as the miserable sauce strewed on the ham, the poor food in general (which has been getting constantly worse since Christmas), the poor service and the dirty glasses. I was assured that something would be done and I am sitting tight till something is done. I'm sure everyone realizes that it becomes tiresome to eat the same kind of food in the same place all the time, but even with that impediment overlooked, we can still expect our due.

SMC Sextet Edge Jays 5-2; Felony Pulls Hat Trick Woodworth Stars in Goal

By Fran Hoben

Co-captain Jim Feloney spun some more of his black magic Thursday afternoon at Plattsburg, N.Y., giving his best performance of the season as the St. Mike's pucksters got back to winning ways with a 5-2 triumph over Champlain.

Feloney continued to top the Purple scoring parade by driving home three goals and assisting on two others – bringing his point total to 15. "The Rocket" wasted little time in this one. With only 22 seconds gone in the opening period he bolted the puck into the nets to give the locals a lead which they not only protected but increased. Again at 14:35 Feloney scored, and for the second time Co-captain Jack Conway got the assist.

FIRST LINE BRILLIANT

Conway himself took no back seat in the point department, being credited with three assists as well as the third goal of the first period, which came at 15:39. For that matter little Al Fecteau played his usual fine game at left wing making it another terrific performance by Coach Fr. Larkin's first line.

The second period was rather quiet from an offensive point of view as the two goalies took over the spotlight. Feloney did break through at 8:15 to give the Knights a 4-0 advantage, and after three minutes of the last session Fecteau rang the bell also, but as far as the outcome was concerned these goals were just frosting on the cake.

WOODIE LOSES SHUTOUT

Until the six minute mark of the last period, Champlain could do nothing with S.M.C.'s spunky goalie Ernie " Gubby" Woodworth, who turned in his best job of the campaign. At that time Hurst scored to shun any ideas Woodie had of a shutout, and at 13:41 the Bluejay's Murdock duplicated the feat to make the score 5-2 and close-out the scoring for the day.

The next encounter for the Purple six will be on Tuesday, February 27, with the strong Panthers from Middlebury providing the opposition.

Feloney now has twelve goals and 3 assists for 15 points. Conway has 5 and 8 for thirteen; Fecteau 4 and 6 for ten.

Purple Bow to Maroons Burzenski Fails in Clutch

By Bill Keogh

For the third time this year, St. Michael's Purple Knights found themselves on the short end of the final score by dropping a 64 to 53 decision to Springfield College at the Rifle City. The Gymnasts sliding zone defense kept the Michaelmen off stride as the home team hit with greater consistency from the outside. Although they penetrated the Springfield defense at times, faulty ball-handling seemed to be the main flaw in the Branonmen's attack.

The Knights were in the contest for the first half, which ended 30 to 25 in Springfield's favor. The second half saw Coach John Bunn's five run wild and pile up a lead of 23 points at one time, but the SMC boys narrowed it down with a late drive.

Springfield's top scorers were set-shot artist Burke with 17, Schutts' 16, and Pelcher's 15 points. The visitor's main point-getter was George Barry who hooped 16 while not far behind was Paul Stapleton's 10.

A glaring weakness in the Knights attack was Big Ted Burzenski's inability to hit the double figure mark. Burzenski was only able to connect for four markers during the melee. Coach Barry Branon will send his boys through an intense workout this week in preparation for next Wednesday's encounter against UVM.

Introducing: Tom Duggan

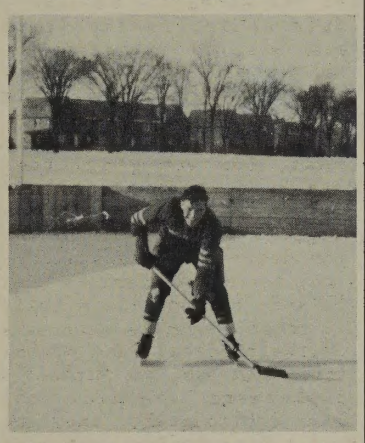
By Bernie Smith

Hard hitting defenseman Tom Duggan is in the spotlight this week along with Al Fecteau, the always hustling right wing on this year's edition of the Purple Knights' sextet.

Tom hails from West Roxbury, Mass., and played his first hockey at St. John's Prep in Danvers. He also played football and baseball but hockey was his first love. Tom skated defense at the Prep for four years and captained the team during his senior year '47. Among his notable achievements are winning a spot on the North Shore All Stars two years running and in '46 playing with the Boston Junior Olympics.

After a semester at B.U. where he played freshman hockey, Tom transferred to St. Michael's in February of '48 and ever since has been doing a good job on picket duty with the Purple Knights.

and Al Fecteau



Al is the right wing on St. Michael's "Muscles Line" of Feloney, Conway and Fecteau. The boy from Waterville, Maine, starred at Notre Dame Junior College before coming to St. Mike's in '49. While at Notre Dame he also played football and baseball.

Off the ice Al is soft-spoken but once he dons the blades he makes his presence known. The boys from Norwich will attest to that since earlier in the year the " flying Frenchman" pulled the hat trick in the game against the Cadets. Currently he is third high scorer on the team with ten points. Possessed with one of the hardest shots on the club, Al promises to make that total jump, if we ever get any ice, that is.

By Dan Tarpey

How about this -- St. Michael's basketball fame is due to be aired coast to coast this Saturday on the Mutual network. Stoney McLinn, whose " Sports Parade" comes from Philadelphia each Saturday at 4:00 p.m., has agreed to give St. Michael's six minutes this week. Athletic Director George " Doc" Jacobs and Coach Barry Branon were interviewed this week by Public Relations Director John Donoghue. Rev. Gerard Duford recorded the tape and it was airmailed to McLinn. Donoghue wrote to McLinn, an old friend of Jacobs, and he agreed St. Michael's record of not losing a game in Vermont for the past two years was worth reporting. Mutual's nearest outlet is WDEV at Waterbury.

Did you know this? Each time towering Ted Burzenski scores a point he makes a new Vermont collegiate scoring record. The " big hawk" from Weehawken has scored 910 points in his varsity career at St. Michael's. The former record of 821 points was held by Ed Kotlarcyzk ex-University of Vermont star. Burzenski has scored 256 points in 16 games during the current season.

Even basketball in Vermont is conservative. St. Michael's and the University rank among the top small college defensive teams in the nation, with Vermont holding a slight edge over St. Michael's. National Collegiate Athletic Bureau Statistics show that Vermont ranks sixth in the nation on small college defense. The Cats have an average of 50.5 points scored against game. The Knights are in seventh position with a per game average of 51 markers tallied on the wrong side. With Williams they're the only New England college in the first ten. Eastern Washington leads the country with 48.5 The Knights will pass the University in the defense ratings after Wednesday's clash between the two arch rivals. What I wish to say is, that the Purple Knights will defeat the Cats in the vicinity of a 65-48 margin.

Tournament news: Fairfield University and Assumption College have expressed their willingness to participate in the National Invitation Tournament of the New England region to be held in Burlington the second week of March. Although an invitation has been sent their way, it is believed that Boston College will not show.

Earle Markey, sophomore sensation at Holy Cross, and by the way, brother to Ed, is hitting at a 12.4 clip for the Crusaders.

Constructive criticism is deeply appreciated but some guys will do anything to see their names in bold print.

STATE TITLE AT STAKE

By Frank Simas

This Wednesday night is another big night for Vermont basketball. The Knights of St. Mike's tangle with the Cats from across the " great span" (the Winooski bridge). The Michaelmen are determined to jump back on the credit side of the ledger, after winding up on the wrong side of the Springfield College game.

The Catamounts really pushed the Branonmen in their last outing, the Mikemen eeked out a 54-49 victory. Both teams had a very poor shooting percentage – making only 21% of their shots. The Knights still have a very impressive record of 16 decisions and 3 setbacks while the Evans men are sporting a 11-4 slate.

With the strong friendly rivalry plus the accompanying pressure of the encounter, the game should be full of all the thrills and spills of previous games. The Cats have revenge in their eyes and the Knights will be seeking an atonement for the Springfield heartbreaker so the clash should prove to be a wide open tilt.

and have not Charity, you are nothing"

We have had the distinct and somewhat appalling experience of having read in the issue of the MICHAELMAN of February seventeenth last under the title "Hilltopics" an article by the alleged Sports Editor of this paper. Since brevity is the soul of something, we shall not waste many words on this "sports writer's" grammar. The English department can cope with that. We merely quote: "Are these athletes capable TO bear the brunt..?" We realize that a man in an editor's position is subject to much criticism. "Heavy hangs the head that wears the crown." Necessity is the mother of invention; criticism the father of humility. Humility is a lesson we must all learn, the undersigned included.

"My record speaks for itself. Seldom have I erred in the past in stating any predictions concerned WITH sports." We are in mind of another great (?) sports writer. If imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, consider yourself flattered, Dave Egan. We are impressed by the sparkling, salty, clever, verbiage in our friend's brilliant thesis.

In these days of strife and terror, in these days of world upheaval, a good chuckle is always appreciated. We smile wanly. We will follow "Hill Topics" assiduously henceforth. We will clutch in our sweaty, tiny hands each article by this brilliant writer. Knowing little of baseball compared to our "Colonel," we look forward with great expectations to the wisdom we know we will find in the column written by a man who has stated so modestly, "Seldom have I erred in the past in stating any predictions concerned with sports."

As regards Charity, we have discovered a fine example of the same in "Hilltopics": "Apparently our gifted cheerleaders did not take heed to my reform bill presented in last week's issue and thus proved to be thoroughly outclassed by the UVM coordinated cheerleaders." Our only comment is: "nuts!" Perhaps our "Colonel" has read on page two of the last issue of the MICHAELMAN the item headed "To the Editor". Verbum sapiens satis est....

Are you a man? If so, Green Mountain is calling! That's right, Green Mountain Junior College.

About every year at this time invitations are sent up to those "men" of St. Mike's who might enjoy the company of a member of the fairer sex from time to time. This year is no exception, for the journey "down-country" is already being planned.

On Saturday afternoon, February 24, buses will leave the campus from in front of the "chow-hall" at 1:30 p.m., carrying about 100 Outing Club members to the annual social gathering, compliments of the girls of Green Mountain.

Four Colleges to Debate at SMC

By Charlie Smith

The St. Michael's Debating Club will entertain Vermont, Dartmouth, Champlain, and Middlebury debators, in the third annual invitational novice tournament, which will take place here at the Hilltop on March the third. The question to be debated is: "Resolved that the non-communist nations should form a new international organization." The tournament is going to be a no-contest affair, there will be no winning or losing teams, rather the prime purpose of the debate is to provide realistic experience for the beginner. The debate will be a three round contest with each individual team receiving a half-hour critique at the end of each round. Those taking part in the debate are John Lawler, John O'Connor, Tom Roussell, Bob Flanagan, Al Castellana, George Filteau, and Bernard Hermann.

The Varsity Debators are preparing for their spring trip (around the middle of March) to Harvard, Holy Cross, Boston College, Boston University, Mass. Institute of Technology, and perhaps St. Anselm's.
